Sec. 6

The Committee of the Whole recommended the following:

[SEC. 6. For the purpose of choosing members of the Legislature, the State shall be divided into forty districts, as nearly equal in population as may be, and composed of contiguous territory, to be called legislative districts. Each district shall choose one Senator and two members of the Assembly. The districts shall be numbered from one to forty, inclusive, in numerical order, commencing at the northern boundary of the State, and ending at the southern boundary thereof. In the formation of said districts, no county, or city and county, shall be divided, unless it contain sufficient population within itself to form two or more districts; nor shall a part of any county, or city and county, be united with any other county, or city and county, in forming any district. The census taken under the direction of the Congress of the United States, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and every ten years thereafter, shall be the basis of fixing and adjusting the legislative districts; and the Legislature shall, at its first session after each census, adjust said districts and re-apportion the representation so as to preserve them as near equal in population as may be. But in making such adjustment no persons who are not eligible to become citizens of the United States under the naturalization laws, shall be counted as forming the population of any district. Until such adjustment shall be made, the apportionment now provided by law shall continue in force.]

Amended in

Section 13

The committee recommended the following:

[SEC. 15. No law shall be passed except by bill. Nor shall any bill be put upon its final passage until the same, with the amendments thereto, shall have been printed for the use of the members; nor shall any bill become a law unless the same be read on three several days in each House, unless, in case of urgency, two-thirds of the House where such bill may be depending shall, by a vote of yeas and nays, deem it expedient to dispense with this rule. Any bill may originate in either House, but may be amended or rejected by the other; and on the final passage of all bills they shall be read at length, and the vote shall be by yeas and nays upon each bill separately, and shall be entered on the Journal; and no bill shall become a law without the concurrence of a majority of the members elected to each House.

Mr. Fleches moved to amend line 6 by striking out the word "Rule" and insert "Provision" adopted.

35) amendment as amended engrossed in.

Sep. 16

The committee recommended the following

[SEC. 16. Every bill which may have passed the Legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approve it, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it originated, which shall enter the same upon the Journal and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration, it again pass both Houses by yeas and nays, two-thirds of the members elected to each House voting therefor, it shall become a law notwithstanding the Governor's objections. If any bill shall not be returned within ten days after it shall have been presented to him (Sundays excepted), the same shall become a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature, by adjournment, prevents such return, in which case it shall not become a law, unless the Governor, within ten days after such adjournment (Sundays excepted), shall sign and deposit the same in the office of the Secretary of State, in which case it shall become a law in like manner as if it had been signed by him before adjournment. If any bill presented to the Governor contains several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more items, while approving other portions of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects, and the reasons therefor, and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect unless passed over the Governor's veto, as hereinbefore provided. If the Legislature be in session, the Governor shall transmit to the House in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items so objected to shall be separately reconsidered in the same manner as bills which have been disapproved by the Governor.

36 [illegible]

Mr Schell moved to amend by striking out in 16 & 17 lines the words "the same" and insert "such objections".
