Section —.

As every freeman, to preserve his independence (if without an estate) ought to have some profession, calling, trade, or farm, whereby, he may honestly subsist, there can be no necessity for, nor use in, establishing offices of profit, the usual effect of which are, dependence and servility, unbecoming freemen, in the possessors, or expectants. Creating faction, contention, and discord among the people. But if any man is called into public service to the prejudice of his private affairs, he has a right to a reasonable compensation, and whenever an office, through increase of fees, or otherwise, becomes so profitable as to occasion many to apply for it, the profits ought to be lessened by the Legislature
